THE MEDICAL OFFICER OF HEALTH APPLIES TRATEICEA NA NOT. The following letter, dated July Sth. from Dr. Clark, Medical Officer of Health, was submitted :- I have the honour to request that the Sanitary. Board may at their next regular meeting take into consideration the desirability of arging the Government to appoint a properly qualified assistant Medical Officer of Health for this colony. The almost input minimum strength shall be capable of ensuring recurrence of epidemics of bubonic plagus and cleanliness through the City at all times, and but after deducting the $250,000 from profits to of small-pox has convinced me that further medical assistance is essential in my department. and that such assistance to be reliable cannot be obtained, as in England, during an epidemic. as an intimate knowledge of the habits and enstems of the Chinese of the locality and of the complicated and diverse public health laws and by laws of the colony is essential to the due performance of the duties of such office. This knowledge can only be acquired by a perminent officer, and in my opinion it is most desirable that such an officer, should be obtained

Mr. E. We shall never rid theplace of plague, nor can we hope to cope with the disease, until we have an adequate staff of qualified men for sanitary work alone." The Hon. R. D. Ormsby-"I agree with the President."

The Vice-President-" The matter requires very careful consideration." Mr. OSBORNE said-The application of the and in respect of the entries contained there. Medical Officer of Health affords a fitting opthe morning, and having secured a Chinaman as in, that the present charge was brought portunity of considering the whole question of erical strongth is accontuated by the fact that more than half the Liverpool inspectors are men bolding certificates from the Sanitary Institute, and to quote the words of the report of the Liverpool Medical Officer of Health, are men " whose previous training and occupation hato been such as to fit them for the special daties they are called upon to discharge." whilst the Hongkong men are recruited mainly from the Army and Police where their previous training. cannot count for much in the work they are set to perform. I de not infer that the men whom we empley are, in the slightest degree, unfit to become inspectors, but I do say that if it be considered necessary at home to engage only those who are qualified for the work, it is a thousand times more essential to do so here on account of the trying circumstances under which they have to perform their duties. These figures show most sonclusively that our sanitary staff is not only greatly undermanned as compared with that of Liverpool, but that the qualifications of our staff are not of such a high standard as is deemed necessary in Liverpool. The difficulties connected with sanitary work at home must be small compared with Hongkong. There, the bulk of the population are persons whose intelligence and training enable them to appreciate the benefits of cleanliness and thus lessen the hand the mass of the people are absolutely to cleanliness and their passive resistance, if taken. not active obstruction, will always constitute a formidable obstacle to sanitary reform.
